With over eight years of professional experience, Iñigo has been an associate of the firm since 2018. His practice primarily focuses on Banking and Finance, as well as Mergers and Acquisitions, where he advises clients on complex domestic and cross-border transactions involving financial institutions, institutional investors, and corporations of various industries.

In addition to his transactional work, Iñigo regularly advises national and international clients on corporate governance matters, regulatory compliance, and the design and implementation of corporate legal strategies. His experience also extends to advising clients on their day-to-day commercial and operational activities in Mexico. He serves as a member of the governing bodies of several NGOs and private entities across the industrial and financial sectors.

Iñigo holds a law degree from the Tecnológico de Monterrey and a Master of Laws (LL.M.) from the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School, where he also earned a Business and Law Certificate from the Wharton School.
