With more than 12 years of professional experience, Nicolás focuses on labor and employment law.

Nicolás provides legal advice to national and multinational companies by:

Legal representation of several companies in individual matters before the Conciliation and Arbitration Boards in Mexico, both Federal and Local jurisdiction, from the beginning to the Federal instances of appeal.

Representation in massive processes of termination of labor relations with employees of various companies.

Support to clients focusing on legal labor audits, preventive and corrective consulting, and corporate labor consulting, providing support to both the Legal and Human Resources departments in the day-to-day management of their employment relations.

Attention to matters of a collective nature representing various companies in claims of ownership of the collective bargaining agreement, strike notices for the signing of a collective bargaining agreement or revising and negotiating with unions.

Support and advice companies in the disengagement and or termination of employment relations of its employees.
