With more than 8 years of experience in civil and commercial disputes and litigation, Valeria has participated in the design and implementation of legal strategies for complex disputes, representing both individuals and companies in judicial proceedings and alternative dispute resolution mechanisms.

Her experience encompasses the management of matters through all stages of litigation, including the drafting of complaints, responses, appeals, interlocutory proceedings, and constitutional relief actions (amparo) related to civil and commercial matters.

She has also been involved in disputes arising from contractual relationships, enforcement of obligations, asset recovery, and commercial conflicts. Valeria is recognized for her strong legal analysis, attention to detail, and strategic approach to the effective resolution of disputes.
