EDUCATION

LL.B.
2025, Universidad Autónoma de
Nuevo León.

With over four years of professional experience, Sergio specializes in labor and employment law. His practice focuses on representing employers in labor litigation and resolving disputes before various local and federal labor authorities.

His experience includes collaborating in the design and implementation of defense strategies for labor lawsuits, amparo proceedings, and various appeals before Labor Courts, as well as managing and monitoring ongoing litigation matters.

Sergio also represents numerous companies before labor authorities in conciliation proceedings, the negotiation of settlement agreements, and individual employment terminations.

In addition, he has participated in coordinating and executing large-scale workforce reductions across various states in Mexico.
